▼ Audio consultations Road map

Starting the audio consultations, the most important thing is to follow the main stages of the call and remember that the aim is to prolong the consultation as long as possible, as the value of the communication for the user is increased with time and as many answers and possibilities for communication were offered by the expert.

Below, you can find the main stages of the audio consultations at Nebula:

▼ Greeting and Introduction

Aim: Use a standard Nebula script to create a welcoming heart-warming atmosphere in the call, same time form a sort of expectation for receipt of standardized high-quality service

The tone of voice: A bit formal, but welcoming, caring, and personalized

Below you can find the main scripts and bits of advice at this stage:

- Introduction + user's name finding out:

a) Hello/Hi/Good day/Good morning/Good night (optionally). You reach ... (your name) at Nebula. May I have your name, please?

OR

Hello/Hi/Good day/Good morning/Good night (optionally). ... (Expert's name) speaking, nice to meet you at Nebula, may I have your name, please?

- *The user says their name, if needed please clarify pronunciation and refer to the user by their name
- It's important here to remember the user's name - it's better to write down/or type the user's name in the Notes, try to make it not so noisy, so the user wouldn't hear the keyboard typing.

b) It's a pleasure to speak to you, ... (user's name). How may I help you today?

- Be attentive to the user's tone of voice, and in case the user mentions life struggles, difficulties, or hard life experiences in their request, please apply natural empathy expressions referring to the user by their name. It will allow for building empathic and trustworthy communication from the very start.
- At this stage, you can ask clarifying questions or ask for additional information, sufficient for your reading and the technique you use.
- Name the technique you are using and comment on what you are doing.
- We recommend adding optionally the following phrase while you are preparing the chart/or making a tarot spread / etc. It will allow comfort the user more, same time fulfill the possible occurred pause of silence:

d) As I'm preparing the reading, please feel free to interrupt me and clarify anything in case you're needed in our session. This can help to gain a deeper session/to receive as many insights as possible.

How to prolong the communication at this stage?:

- Try to avoid pauses and moments of silence in the call, and at the same time be attentive to the user's intonation. For example, if you hear that the user is sad, don't speak with over joyful intonation.

▼ User's initial question reading

Aim: Provide a complex and completed reply, keep in mind the main user's question, and stick to it, while providing useful information, but at the same time build a dynamic dialogue and interact with the user with help of engaging questions within the framework of request. Use time fillers, and avoid silent moments in the call.

The tone of voice: Pleasant, but focused on solving the user's problem and fulfilling the request, proactive and interested to prolong the call

Below you can find the main scripts and bits of advice at this stage:

- Further in our training, we will offer more options for engaging questions, which are context-based and depend on the user's problem type. Below you can find more general engaging questions, which will help to build the dialogue within the framework of the initial request and help to go deeper:

Does it make sense?

Does it resonate with you?

It seems like.../ Is it close to your heart?

It looks like.../ Is it true?

You look like... /Does it sound familiar?

Does it sound familiar?

Is it close to your heart?

Is it correct?

- The main mistake during the user's initial reading is to be inactive, and not interested to go deeper into the problem. Avoid such type of communication and offer as many possibilities to check the aspects, as you can.
- Before checking any type of question/aspect, apply time-filler by describing what you are doing, for example:

Initial user's question: I'm feeling terrible, I want to know if my ex comes back.

Reply: Oh, dear, I'm so sorry you are feeling this way, I'm feeling your energy, and you don't deserve such struggles, let me check with the cards.

Here, do not be silent - comment on what you are doing and fulfill the pauses:

So now I'm shuffling my deck, please make a deep breath and keep in mind your ex's name. So now I'm making a spread and I got the next cards...

Your time filler must consist of the technique you use and comments on what you are doing at the moment. Same time, interact with the user by:

- asking to take a breath
- keep in mind the question
- focus on the question
- remember any kind of specific moment, which can help to activate the energies, etc.

Such interaction can help to fulfill the pauses and activate the user in the chat.

TASK:

- prepare from 5 to 10 general engaging question, which needs confirmation from the user (examples here: <https://prnt.sc/jc2eP-> aeCkZv)

- prepare from 5 to 10 requests to the user, which are aimed to fulfill the pauses, and which correspond to the techniques you use (examples here: <https://prnt.sc/BmSx9ILGVX9I>)

How to prolong the communication at this stage?:

- Being proactive in the chat. Remember that the expert is the "driving engine" in the chat. More often the user doesn't know how deeper an expert can make a reading and the call would often end after the expert asks the engagement: "What is your next question?" And the user simply doesn't have it, the call comes to an end.

The first thing here is - to check as many possible aspects and provide the solutions to many points, as it's possible within the framework of the initial user's question.

- asking questions that refer to the user's past, and present, like: "I see that at the moment you are in the process of decision-making, is it true?" or "I see that 3 months ago there was a turnover in your love relationship, is it correct?";
- your strong side, which you can help users with - here you promote yourself as a very qualified specialist - you can tell users more about what you can help with or check deeper;

The second thing is when you feel that the initial question is fully read pass to the next stage of the call below, by trying not to use the engagement "What is your next question?" - below you can find more pieces of advice on the alternative type of engagement.

▼ Engagement and next-question reading

Aim: Prolong the call and increase the income by offering to check, another important aspect for the user by relying on:

- aspect which you saw in the chart/card, and which is worth mentioning or warning the user about;
- offer to take a piece of advice from the cards with the help of a random card/hear a piece of advice from planets/ make an oracle reading /etc. - this is more about a general reading but with an emphasis on the main user's pain.

- You can offer special practices like remedies, rituals, meditation, etc. - which can help the user solve the problem the user is facing.

Further in our training, we will offer more options for engaging users for the next iteration of the reading. But before, please complete the following task:

TASK

- prepare per 2-3 engagements on each of the subjects https://prnt.sc/ePoi2N_J7LI which are close to your specialty and technique you use, and which you can offer during the call.

The tone of voice: Proactive, interested in communication and helping users.

Below you can find the main scripts and bits of advice at this stage:

After the task is completed you will have your personal scripts also more ideas will be given in the further block of our training.

How to prolong the communication at this stage?:

Show as many options to the user as you can, depending on the first reading and the user's preferences and pains. Be proactive and interested to provide a fully personalized reading.

Here we expect that the user would be interested and will agree to check further reading. After you completed the second reading, start this stage again and same time again and again. This will help to prolong the chat and increase income, and at the same time form a friendly and long-term relationship with the user.

▼ Audio consultation closure and agreement for the next meeting

Aim: perform a logical closure, which would be standardized and will stimulate users to come back to you for the next consultation.

The tone of voice: Kind, wishing the best, thankful, and welcoming for the next session

Below you can find the main algorithm and scripts and bits of advice at this stage:

- After you engaged the user, and the user is not ready or has no possibility to prolong the call, go to the closure, which will consist of:

1. Wishing all the good - here you can wish for something good, or which the user is dreaming about based on the communication
2. Confirming that you will be happy to hear from the user next time or mention some very strong astrological (or other) event, which will be on the nearest days and can help the user.
3. Nice and pleasant farewell.
4. Don't forget to mention the platform - Nebula - this will stimulate the needed associations the user will have.
5. Send a message after the end of the call as you do it after the end of the chat as it highly boosts the possibility of the client's comeback.(it is easier for them to have this information written then just heard)

For example:

... (User's name), I wish you get this place and I see very good chances. Next Monday, there will be a powerful event, which will help your manifestation. I will be happy to hear from you! See you at Nebula!

TASK

- prepare 2 closure scripts which will consist of the mentioned points <https://prnt.sc/NQvzyo69P0eA> and you can use them during your consultations.

How to prolong the communication at this stage?:

Be sincere and laconic, and mentioned the possibility and agreement of the next session.
